Thank You Notes

Friends, thank you for your prayers, your concern, cards and phone calls while I was sick. I am much better now.
Love y'all. Nell

Dear Westgate congregation,

On behalf of the family Jerry Herttenberger, I would like to express our thanks for all the thoughts and prayers, cards and visits while Daddy was in the hospital and after his passing. Also, we appreciate Brady, Steve, and Dwayne for their participation in the service, and for all those who provided and served the wonderful meal for us before the funeral.

Daddy loved his church family and your kindness and expressions of sympathy mean so much to us. God bless you all,
Mary Davis

Scripture: Matthew 21: 23-27

Jesus entered the temple courts, and, while he was teaching, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him. "By what authority are you doing these things?" they asked. "And who gave you this authority?" Jesus replied, "I will also ask you one question. If you answer me, I will tell you by what authority I am doing these things. John's baptism—where did it come from? Was it from heaven, or of human origin?" They discussed it among themselves and said, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will ask, 'Then why didn't you believe him?' But if we say, 'Of human origin'—we are afraid of the people, for they all hold that John was a prophet."

So they answered Jesus, "We don't know."

Then he said, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I am doing these things."

Invalid Baptism 3—by Brady Horner

This article series has been exploring the issues surrounding the Catholic Church's invalidation of baptisms due to priests saying, "we baptize you", rather than "I baptize you." While I take some issue with the "we" statement, I believe this is about power. Who has the power? The lay people or the clergy? The Catholic Church invalidating these baptisms is saying "the priests have the power, not the laity." To most lay Catholic people, this invalidation of baptisms has been a very unpopular move.

One of the major outcomes of the Protestant Reformation was giving the power, and access to God, back to the people. Bibles were printed in local languages for anyone to read, people were no longer obliged to participate in fasts or giving, and there was a loosening of who could administer the sacraments. There was no longer a need to get to God by going through a middleman priest. In the Catholic Church, saying "we baptize you" implies the laity/community has some power, and takes some part in the baptism. So, it's implying that they (the congregation) are administering a sacrament and are thus circumnavigating the power of the priest. The Catholic Church can't have another Reformation on their hands, so they must invalidate these baptisms and reassert their authority.

The Churches of Christ are on the extreme end of the Reformation! We take the "priesthood of all believers" doctrine to a level that allows for any Christian (theoretically) to teach, preach, and administer the sacraments (we believe the only two "sacraments" are baptism and communion). We are one of the few Christian groups left with no formal ordination of ministers. It's really pretty cool, and one of the things that makes us unique and special (that we don't get much credit for). This is why I like that concept of saying "we baptize you" for an adult baptism! There are so many people who loved me, taught me, and nurtured me in the Church of my youth. All these people led me to the decision to be baptized, so in a sense, they all took part in baptizing me. However, I also acknowledge that it is God who does the transformative work of baptism, not the minister, priest, or congregation. So, I can understand taking issue with the statement. Let's continue our Churches of Christ tradition of being a group that encourages and empowers the congregation to speak, serve, and act in ways that connect them and others to God.

Easter Egg Collection & Hunt

We are asking everyone with children participating in the Easter Egg Hunt to contribute a dozen plastic filled Easter eggs for the annual hunt. Members who don't have children participating in the hunt, but still want to contribute are encouraged to do so. There is a labeled bin under the table in the short hall where you can drop off those filled eggs. A gracious volunteer has offered to fill the eggs for you if you drop off the supplies in the office. Please remember that you can fill the eggs with candy or other non-edible treats. The Easter Egg Hunt will be on Sunday, April 10th, at the Festival Gardens. More details on the hunt to come.

Children's Ministry News

In 2 Samuel 9, King David finds Jonathan's son, Mephibosheth. David shows kindness by inviting him to the palace, feeding him a meal, and letting him eat at the palace regularly. God was kind to David; David was kind to Mephibosheth, and we should be kind to others.

New summary verse for the next several weeks, "He comforts us in all our troubles so that we can comfort others. When they are troubled, we will be able to give them the same comfort God has given us." (2 Corinthians 1:4)

Remember to pray for Westgate educators, "... that God will strengthen you with his own great power, so that you will be patient and not give up when troubles come..." (Colossians 1:11)

There will be no children's classes on March 27th. Join us the church retreat.

Mark your calendars for our Field Day VBS, Growing Strong in God's Truths on June 18th. The events are planned for ages 4 years through 5th grade, but families are welcome to enjoy the park and watch the strength building activities. Please be in prayer for planning and for friends to invite.

Jonathan's older elementary class heard how David praised God when the ark was returned to Jerusalem. Many thanks to Jon for the pictures and for his patient instruction of this vibrant group.

Youth Ministry News

We will not be having class this Wednesday, 3/16. Join our church family at 6:45 in the fellowship hall for games and a movie instead!
